2	From at least 1935, if not earlier, Defendants knew that Scout Leader positions were
3	being used by predatory child molesters to victimize children, and that Defendants had an
4	institution-wide or systemic child sexual abuse problem. Based on thousands of internal reports
5	contained in Defendants' "ineligible volunteer files" created prior to Plaintiff's participation in
6	Scouting, Defendants understood how Scout Leaders used their positions of trust to select
7	victims and accomplish the abuse of scouts. Based on this knowledge, prior to the selection of
8	Robert "Bob" Booth(e) (hereinafter "Booth") as a Scout Leader in Portland, Defendants became
9	aware that Scout Leaders were in fact sexually abusing boys.
10	4
11	With the knowledge set out in paragraph 3, Defendants selected Booth as a Scout Leader
12	in Portland, Oregon from at least 1962 through 1964. At all times relevant to this Complaint,
13	Defendants selected or accepted Booth for the position of Scoutmaster, or a similar capacity

(hereinafter "Scout Leader") for the Boy Scout Troop to which Plaintiff belonged. As a Scout Leader, Booth's role was to educate, mentor, befriend, counsel, and train young boys like 15

Plaintiffs in morality, patriotism, and various life skills. As a Scout Leader, Booth was in a position of trust, confidence, and authority over minors involved in Defendants' programs, including Plaintiff.

Defendants authorized and empowered Booth to perform all the duties of a Scout Leader, including the power to provide instruction, counseling, moral guidance, physical supervision of boys participating in Scouting, the power to enforce the rules governing the boys' participation in Scouting, as well as other duties. Defendants retained the right to control the means and methods used by Scout Leaders like Booth in fulfilling these duties for Defendants. Defendants taught and instructed boys, including Plaintiff, to have respect for and obey persons in positions of authority, including Scout Leaders like Booth. Defendants knew that as part of his duties as a ratified the conduct of Booth in performing the duties of a Scout Leader. 6. While performing duties as a Scout Leader, and for the purpose of furthering his duties required in that role, Booth befriended Plaintiff; gained the trust and confidence of Plaintiff and his family as an instructor, guide, mentor, counselor, and authority figure; and gained the permission, acquiescence, and support of Plaintiff's family to spend substantial periods of time alone with Plaintiff. As a result, Plaintiff was conditioned to trust Booth, to comply with his directions, and to respect Booth as a person of authority in moral and ethical matters. Booth acting as a Scout Leader toward Plaintiff, supervised Plaintiff on Scouting trips and outings, and exercised authority in loco parentis over Plaintiff during Scouting events. 7. Using his authority and position of trust as a Scout Leader, Booth induced and directed Plaintiff to engage in various sexual acts with Booth. Booth's authorized activities as a Scout Leader led to and resulted in the sexual abuse of the Plaintiff, discussed below. Booth's actions as a Scout Leader to Plaintiff were: (a) committed in direct connection and for the purposes of fulfilling his employment and agency with Defendants; (b) committed within the time and space limits of his agency as a Scout Leader; (c) done initially and at least in part from a desire to serve the interests of Defendant done directly in the performance of his duties as a Scout Leader;

2	sexual abuse of Plaintiff.
4	Scoutmaster Booth engaged in intentional conduct resulting in one or more of the
5	following effects: physical injury, mental injury, rape, sexual abuse, and/or sexual exploitation of
6	Plaintiffs as those terms are used in ORS 12.117. Specifically Scoutmaster Booth sexually
7	abused and molested Plaintiff in or around 1963, when Plaintiff was approximately 10 years old.
8	The sexual abuse included fondling, masturbation, sexual assault and battery, and attempted oral
9	sodomy.
10	9.
11	Scoutmaster Booth's sexual abuse and molestation constituted a sexual and physical
12	battery upon Plaintiff's person. As a result of Scoutmaster Booth's sexual abuse, molestation,
13	and breach of authority, trust, and position as Scout Leader, Plaintiff has suffered and/or will
14	suffer in the future the following physical injuries: substance abuse issues and sleep disturbances.
15	In conjunction with or in addition to the aforementioned injuries, and as a further result of the
16	sexual and physical battery by Scoutmaster Booth, Plaintiff has suffered and/or will suffer in the
17	future: severe and debilitating mental and emotional injury, including mental and emotional pain
18	and suffering, anxiety, shame, humiliation, depressions, self-esteem issues, trust issues,
19	relationship issues, emotional trauma, and permanent psychological damage. All of the
20	aforementioned injuries have caused and will cause Plaintiff Michael Doe to incur non-economic
21	damages in the approximate amount of $4,000,000.00, the exact amount to be proven at trial.
22	10.
23	As an additional result and consequence of Scoutmaster Booth's sexual abuse,
24	molestation, and breach of authority, trust, and position as Scout Leader, Plaintiff has incurred
25	and/or will incur in the future, costs for counseling, psychiatric, psychological, and medical

3	FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF
4	Against all Defendants
5	(Sexual Battery of a Child/Respondeat Superior)
6	11.
7	Plaintiff realleges and reincorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 10, above.
8	12.
9	While acting in the course and scope of his agency for Defendants, Booth induced and
10	directed Plaintiff to engage in various sexual acts with Booth, as set forth in paragraph 8,
11	above. The sexual molestation and abuse described in paragraph 8 constituted harmful and
12	offensive touching of Plaintiff, to which Plaintiff did not and could not consent.
13	13.
14	As a result and consequence of Booth's sexual abuse and breach of authority, trust and
15	position as a Scout Leader to Plaintiff, Plaintiff incurred economic and non-economic damages
16	as detailed in paragraphs 9 and 10, above
17	14.
18	Less than five years before the date of this Complaint, Plaintiff Michael Doe discovered
19	the causal connection between his abuse, as set forth in paragraph 8 above, and the damages
20	suffered as a result of the abuse, as set forth in paragraphs 9 and 10, above. Plaintiff did not
21	discover (and could not reasonably have discovered) at an earlier time the causal connection
22	between the abuse and the damages he suffered as a result of the abuse. The psychological
23	effects of the abuse Plaintiff suffered prevented Plaintiff from discovering the causal connection
24	between the abuse and the damages he suffered as a result of the abuse.
25	15.
26	In molesting Plaintiff, Booth acted with malice or a reckless and outrageous indifference

1	to a highly unreasonable risk of harm with a conscious indifference to the health, safety and
2	welfare of Plaintiff. Punitive damages against an agent are attributable to a principal
3	when conduct within the course and scope of agency leads to or results in the tort. Pursuant to
4	ORS 31.725, Plaintiff hereby gives notice to Defendants of his intent to move to add punitive
5	damages against Defendants at any time after the filing of this Complaint.
6	SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF
7	Against All Defendants
8	(Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress/Respondeat Superior)
9	16.
10	Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 15, above.
11	17.
12	Acts committed within the course and scope of Booth's agency with Defendants led to
13	and/or resulted in Booth knowingly and intentionally causing severe emotional distress and
14	physical injury to Plaintiff. Plaintiff did in fact suffer severe emotional distress and physical
15	injury as a result of this sexual abuse, and the abuse of a child is beyond the bounds of all
16	socially tolerable conduct.
17	18.
18	As a result of Booth's sexual abuse and breach of authority, trust and position as a Scout
19	Leader to Plaintiff, Plaintiff suffered economic and non-economic damages as detailed in
20	paragraphs 9 and 10, above.
21	19.
22	Less than five years before the date of this Complaint, Plaintiff discovered the causal
23	connection between his abuse, as set forth in paragraph 8 above, and the damages suffered as a
24	result of the abuse, as set forth in paragraphs 9 and 10, above. Plaintiff did not discover (and
25	could not reasonably have discovered) at an earlier time the causal connection between the abuse
26	and the damages he suffered as a result of the abuse. The psychological effects of the abuse

1	Plaintiff suffered prevented Plaintiff from discovering the causal connection between the abuse
2	and the damages he suffered as a result of the abuse.
3	20,
4	In molesting Plaintiff, Booth acted with malice or a reckless and outrageous indifference
5	to a highly unreasonable risk of harm with a conscious indifference to the health, safety and
6	welfare of Plaintiff. Punitive damages against an agent are attributable to a principal when a tort
7	is committed within the course and scope of agency. Pursuant to ORS 31.725, Plaintiff hereby
8	gives notice to Defendants of his intent to move to add punitive damages against Defendants at
9	any time after the filing of this Complaint.
10	THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF Against All Defendants
11	(Negligence)
12	21.
13	Plaintiff realleges and reincorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 20, above.
14	22.
15	Defendants created special relationships with Plaintiff by inviting and encouraging
16	Plaintiff to participate in Scouting activities with Scout Leader Booth. That relationship created
17	a duty on the part of Defendants to ensure that Scouting programs were made as reasonably safe
18	as possible from known dangers. Alternatively or in conjunction with the above, Plaintiff had a
19	special relationship with Defendants as a young child entrusted to the care and control of
20	Defendants. The special relationship created a duty of care on the part of Defendants to ensure
21	Plaintiff's safety while participating in Defendants' programs, events or activities.
22	23.
23	Based on the knowledge set out in paragraphs 3 through 7, above, Defendants knew that
24	children (including Plaintiff) were at risk of sexual abuse in Scouting, including the risk of sexual
25	abuse by Booth.
26

2	Despite the knowledge set out in paragraphs 3 through 7, above, Defendants created a
3	foreseeable risk of Scout Leaders abusing children involved in Scouting, including the risk of
4	Booth abusin	g Plaintiff, by failing to undertake reasonable child abuse prevention measures in
5	the following	particular ways:
6	a.	Defendants failed to change their process for selecting, monitoring and
7		supervising Scout Leaders, including Booth;
8	b.	Defendants failed to train Scout Leaders, parents, and Scouts in how to recognize,
9		prevent, report and respond to child abuse;
10	c.	Defendants failed to train Scout Leaders to prevent and exclude individuals
11		suspected of child sexual abuse from interacting with children;
12	d.	Defendants failed to train Scout Leaders to report allegations of adult volunteers
13		grooming or sexually abusing children to law enforcement;
14	e.	Defendants failed to warn and/or notify Plaintiff's parents and parents of similarly
15		situated children about the danger posed by Booth;
16	f.	Defendants failed to warn parents and Scouts of the risk of child sexual abuse
17		inherent to the Scouting program, including the risk of child sexual abuse by
18		Booth; and,
19	g.	Defendants failed to implement and/or enforce reasonable policies to prevent
20		child abuse – such as a "zero tolerance" rule regarding allegations of child abuse,
21		or a rule against any adult Scout Leader participating in activities alone with
22		individual children in Scouting (i.e., no "one-on-one").
23	These actions	and inactions were a substantial contributing and causal factor to the abuse of
24	Plaintiff and his resulting injuries.
25		25.
26	Based	on Defendants' aforementioned knowledge gleaned from reports of child sexual

1	abuse in Scouting contained in their ineligible volunteer files, Defendants knew with certainty
2	that the failures to undertake reasonable child abuse prevention measures (as set out in paragraph
3	24, above) would result in children being sexually abused by Scout Leaders while participating in
4	Defendants' Scouting program and activities. It was foreseeable to Defendants that Plaintiff and
5	the similarly situated class of children involved in Scouting were in danger of sexual abuse,
6	including abuse by Booth. Defendants thereby created a foreseeable risk of harm to the safety of
7	children in the care of Defendants, including Plaintiff.
8	26.
9	Plaintiff was a member of the class of individuals to be protected by reasonable child
10	abuse prevention measures. Such measures would have protected Plaintiff from some or all of
11	his abuse.
12	27.
13	Given Defendants' knowledge of the nature, common circumstances and indicators of
14	sexual abuse in Scouting, Defendants knowingly allowed, permitted, or encouraged child abuse
15	pursuant to ORS 12.117 through their conduct set out in paragraphs 21 through 26, above.
16	28.
17	Plaintiff's interest in being free from sexual molestation is an interest of a kind that the
18	law protects against negligent invasion. Defendants' actions and inactions described in
19	paragraphs 21 through 27, above, were unreasonable in light of the risk posed to minor boys by
20	Scout Leaders, including Booth. Defendants' actions and inactions described in paragraphs 21
21	through 27 were a direct and foreseeable cause of the molestation and damages suffered by the
22	Plaintiff, as alleged in paragraphs 8, 9 and 10, above.
23	29.
24	Less than five years before the date of this Complaint, Plaintiff discovered the causal
25	connection between his abuse, as set forth in paragraph 8 above, and the damages suffered as a result of the abuse, as set forth in paragraphs 9 and 10, above. Plaintiff did not discover (and

26

1	could not reasonably have discovered) at an earlier time the causal connection between the abuse
2	and the damages he suffered as a result of the abuse. The psychological effects of the abuse
3	Plaintiff suffered prevented Plaintiff from discovering the causal connection between the abuse
4	and the damages he suffered as a result of the abuse. Furthermore, Plaintiff did not discover
5	Defendants' negligence as described in paragraphs 21 through 28, above, until less than 5 years
6	prior to filing suit. Specifically, less than five years before filing suit, Plaintiff learned that, prior
7	to the abuse Plaintiff suffered, Defendants already had knowledge about the risk of child sexual
8	abuse in Scouting. Moreover, less than five years before filing suit, Plaintiff learned that, despite
9	this knowledge. Defendants failed to protect Plaintiff from or warn Plaintiff about this risk of
10	sexual abuse in Scouting, including the risk of child sexual abuse by Booth. Finally, less than
11	five years before filing suit, Plaintiff discovered the Defendants' causal role in the injuries he
12	suffered as described in paragraphs 8, 9, and 10, above. Plaintiff did not learn about Defendants'
13	negligence nor its causal role in the injuries Plaintiff suffered more than five years before filing
14	suit, and a reasonable inquiry by a child victim of sexual abuse would not have revealed this
15	information more than five years before filing suit. Accordingly, Plaintiff's claims are timely,
16	30.
17	In acting or failing to act as alleged in paragraphs 21 through 29, above, Defendants acted
18	with malice or reckless and outrageous indifference to a highly unreasonable risk of harm and
19	with a conscious indifference to the health, safety and welfare of children in Scouting, including
20	Plaintiff. Plaintiff hereby provides notice of his intent to move to add allegations of punitive
21	damages against Defendants at any time after the filing of this Complaint.
22 23	FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF Against All Defendants (Fraud)
24	31.
25	Plaintiff hereby realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 30, above.
26	7777

2	At all times relevant to this Complaint, Defendants invited and encouraged Plaintiff to
3	participate in the Scouting program that they administered and controlled, all the while
4	promoting their program as being safe and beneficial for boys, physically, emotionally and
5	spiritually. This invitation created a special, fiduciary relationship (as described above), where	∍in
6	Plaintiff and his parents relied upon Defendants' expertise and judgment in selecting morally
7	upright men to lead, supervise and instruct boys in Scouting programs, including within
8	Plaintiffs' Scout Troop.
9	33.
10	Despite the Defendants' knowledge set out in paragraphs 3 through 7, above, at all time	es
11	relevant to this Complaint, Defendants misrepresented, failed to disclose, and/or actively
12	concealed the danger of child molestation in Scouting (as set forth in paragraphs 1 through 30,
13	above). In the alternative or in conjunction with the above, Defendants affirmatively represent	.ed
14	that its program and Scout Leaders (including Booth) were safe and trustworthy (as set forth in	ĺ
15	paragraphs 1 through 30, above). As such, these assertions, misrepresentations, non-disclosures,
16	concealment, silence and related conduct will be collectively referred to as "representations"
17	throughout the remainder of this Complaint.
18	34.
19	Defendants' representations were false and misleading because:
20	1. Defendants had a duty to disclose known threats to the health and safety of the
21	minors involved with their organization;
22	2. Defendants' invitation to Plaintiff to participate in Scouting upon payment of a	fee
23	required Defendants to disclose all matters material to entering into the
24	transaction, and the danger that Plaintiff would be molested in Scouting would
25	have been particularly material to Plaintiff's decision to enter into or remain in t	the
26	transaction with Defendants; and

1	3. Defendants actively concealed the danger of child molestation by Scout Leaders.
2	35.
3	Defendants' knowledge of and representations regarding the danger of child molestation
4	in Scouting are material because, had Plaintiff known or been given prior warning of the
5	substantial risks of abuse and danger within Scouting, such information would have influenced
6	Plaintiff's conduct in relation to Scouting. Specifically, if he had been aware of these facts,
7	Plaintiff would not have entered into or continued to be in a relationship with Defendants or their
8	agents (including Booth), would not have participated or remained in the Scouting program, and
9	would have been on guard against abuse by Defendants' agents (including Booth).
10	36.
11	Based on Defendants knowledge set out in paragraph 3 through 7, above, Defendants
12	knew that their conduct and representations regarding the safety of Scouting and Scout Leaders
13	were false, misleading, unfounded and/or were made with reckless disregard for the truth.
14	Defendants knew that their conduct and representations created a false impression which
15	obscured, covered up, and/or removed an opportunity that might have led Plaintiff or other
16	similarly situated individuals to discover the type of material facts set forth in paragraphs 3
17	through 7, above.
18	37.
19	Defendants' conduct and representations were made with the intent of inducing Plaintiff
20	(and other similarly situated children), Plaintiff's parents (and other similarly situated parents and
21	guardians), and the community at large to rely on such representations and thereby continue to
22	trust and be involved with Defendants, their agents (including Booth), and the Scouting program.
23	38.
24	Plaintiff and his parents relied on Defendants' representations in allowing Plaintiff to
25	engage in a trust relationship with Defendants and their agents. Plaintiff and his parents
26	reasonably relied on Defendants' representations, as well as Defendants' conduct in maintaining

- the same policies and procedures for the Scouting program, and reasonably believed that
- 2 Scouting and Scout Leaders (including Booth) did not pose a known danger to children. The
- 3 reliance of Plaintiff and his parents was justified because they did not know, nor could they have
- 4 known, of the danger of child sexual abuse by Scout Leaders (including Booth) or Defendants'
- 5 knowledge of such. Plaintiff and his parents relied to their detriment in allowing Plaintiff to
- 6 participate in Scouting and Plaintiff was harmed as a result of this reliance.

7 39.

As a direct consequence of Defendants' fraud as described in paragraphs 31 through 38, Plaintiff suffered the damages described in paragraphs 9 and 10, above.

10 40.

Less than two years before the date of this Complaint, Plaintiff discovered Defendant's fraud, as set forth in paragraphs 9 and 10, above. Plaintiff did not discover (and could not reasonably have discovered) at an earlier time Defendant's fraud or its' causal role in the damages he suffered as a result of the fraud. A reasonable inquiry by a child abuse victim would not have revealed this information. Accordingly, Plaintiff's fraud claim is timely.

16 41.

In committing the aforementioned fraud, Defendants acted with malice or a reckless and outrageous indifference to a highly unreasonable risk of harm and with a conscious indifference to the health, safety, and welfare of children in Scouting, including Plaintiff. Plaintiff hereby provides notice of his intent to move to add punitive damages against Defendants at any time after the filing of this Complaint.
